This map illustrates the coastal region of Virginia, highlighting various counties and cities. The map is color-coded: red for the northern coastal area, blue for the central coastal area, green for the southern coastal area, and yellow for the western coastal area. Major water bodies like Chesapeake Bay and the Potomac River are shown. Numerous place names are labeled, including Norfolk, Suffolk, Portsmouth, and Virginia Beach. The map also shows major roads and highways.

The map displays the five boroughs of New York City, each assigned a unique color and a number in a small box. The colors are: red for Manhattan (01-05), yellow for the Bronx (06-08), green for Queens (09-11), blue for Richmond (12-13), and light blue for Brooklyn (14-16). The map includes labels for major water bodies such as Long Island Sound, the Hudson River, the East River, and the Harlem River. It also shows the names of the five boroughs: Manhattan, Bronx, Queens, Richmond, and Brooklyn. The map is oriented with North at the top.
