NOTICE: SCAMMERS ARE IMPERSONATING THE U.S. COURTS

This office continues to receive inquiries about fraudulent phone calls pretending to be from the U.S. Courts. These callers have been scamming their victims by asking for credit card information, banking account information, and social security numbers. The scheme has been referred to the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

If you receive a phone call from these scammers, do not provide any sensitive information or send them money. Report any such activity to the FBI through their Internet Crime Complaint Center at www.IC3.GOV. The Court can offer no more information on these schemes or their perpetrators.

Do not send any money to callers claiming to be from the U.S. Courts;

Do not share any credit card information, banking account information, and social security numbers; and

Do not trust their communications.

The Court will NEVER place phone calls asking for credit card information, banking account information, or social security numbers.
